

Palgrave Studies in Presidential Politics

Series Editor

Gianluca Passarelli, Sapienza University of Rome, Rome, Italy

Palgrave Studies in Presidential Politics publishes books on all aspects of presidential politics. We welcome proposals for monographs, edited volumes and Pivots on topics such as:

- Contemporary presidencies and presidential powers
- Presidential elections and presidential party politics
- Presidential relations with the legislature
- The media and presidential communication
- The administrative presidency and presidential advisers
- The history of presidential offices and presidential biographies

The series focuses on presidents throughout the world, including both directly elected and indirectly elected presidents, both single-country and comparative studies of presidential politics. It also includes volumes on conceptual or theoretical aspects, such as how to measure presidential power. Moreover, the series considers book projects on the reform of presidential politics, e.g. the reform of presidential elections.

For further information on the series and to submit a proposal for consideration, please get in touch with:

- Commissioning Editor Ambra Finotello ambra.finotello@palgrave.com
- Series Editor Gianluca Passarelli gianluca.passarelli@uniroma1.it

Selena Grimaldi

The Informal Powers of Western European Presidents

A Way out of Weakness

palgrave
macmillan

Selena Grimaldi
University of Macerata
Macerata, Italy

Palgrave Studies in Presidential Politics

ISBN 978-3-031-33329-3

ISBN 978-3-031-33330-9 (eBook)

<https://doi.org/10.1007/978-3-031-33330-9>

© The Editor(s) (if applicable) and The Author(s), under exclusive license to Springer
Nature Switzerland AG 2023

This work is subject to copyright. All rights are solely and exclusively licensed by the Publisher, whether the whole or part of the material is concerned, specifically the rights of translation, reprinting, reuse of illustrations, recitation, broadcasting, reproduction on microfilms or in any other physical way, and transmission or information storage and retrieval, electronic adaptation, computer software, or by similar or dissimilar methodology now known or hereafter developed.

The use of general descriptive names, registered names, trademarks, service marks, etc. in this publication does not imply, even in the absence of a specific statement, that such names are exempt from the relevant protective laws and regulations and therefore free for general use.

The publisher, the authors, and the editors are safe to assume that the advice and information in this book are believed to be true and accurate at the date of publication. Neither the publisher nor the authors or the editors give a warranty, expressed or implied, with respect to the material contained herein or for any errors or omissions that may have been made. The publisher remains neutral with regard to jurisdictional claims in published maps and institutional affiliations.

Cover illustration: Andrey Maslakov/Alamy Stock Photo

This Palgrave Macmillan imprint is published by the registered company Springer Nature Switzerland AG

The registered company address is: Gewerbestrasse 11, 6330 Cham, Switzerland

To my little Elettra who might consider becoming a President rather than a Princess

With love Mum

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My sincerest gratitude goes to colleagues that helped me in searching data and that discussed with me the interpretation on certain episodes of presidential intervention and especially Rui Feijo, Vasco Franco, Lauri Karvonen, Maarika Kujanen and Tapio Raunio.

I'm also grateful to Dr. Anna Katharina von Oettingen of the German Federal Presidential Office (Bundespräsidialamt) for providing me with useful information related to the pocket vetos of German Presidents and to Elisabeth Schuck of the Austrian Federal Presidential Office (Präsidentschaftskanzlei) for providing the speeches of Austrian presidents that I could not retrieve from the website. Similarly, I am also grateful to Chris Duffin of the Office of the Secretary General to the President of Ireland for providing me with the available Christmas speeches of Mary Robinson and Mary McAleese. I would also like to thank Kimmo Hanhimäki, Senior Officer of the Information service of the Office of the President of the Republic of Finland, who provided me information about the vetoes of Finnish Presidents.

Furthermore, I would like to thank certain colleagues who have discussed with me certain theoretical aspects related to the development of my reasoning on informal presidential powers during several years or during certain conferences such as Silvia Bolgherini, Giuseppe Ieraci, Luca Lanzalaco, Patrizia Messina, Gianfranco Pasquino and Gianni Riccamboni.

I'm also grateful to colleagues and friends who gave valuable remarks and comments on certain parts of the book previously proposed as conference papers especially in ECPR General Conferences in 2020 and 2021 and in the international workshop organized in Tampere in 2022 and therefore to Raluca Farcas, Philip Köker, Vesa Koskimaa, Mažvydas Jastramskis, Sophia Moestrup, Mara Morini, Octavio Amorin Neto, Gianluca Passarelli, Lukas Pukelis and Thomas Sedelius.

I would also thank Matteo Boldrini and Aldo Paparo for the helpful discussions on certain methodological strategies and my friends Laura and Giulia Doriguzzi Bozzo for their helpful comments as outsider readers.

Finally, I am grateful to my parents and my partner Pierluigi Corridolo for all the support and help in making worked the difficult balance between private and working life in a period of great changes and stressful situations.

Last but not least, thanks to Hemapriya Eswanth and Ambra Finotelli of Palgrave MacMillan for their patience and kindness and for never giving up with the project of this book.

CONTENTS

1	Introduction	1
1.1	What Are Weak Presidents?	5
1.2	Why Study Weak Presidents?	11
1.3	Aim, Research Questions and Theoretical Framework	16
1.4	Research Design, Methods and Data	22
	References	29
2	Weak Presidents' Characteristics and Pathways to Power	37
2.1	A Gap to Be Filled: How to Tackle with Presidents' Background and Career	37
2.2	Presidents' Socio-demographic Background	43
2.3	Presidents' Political Career Paths	54
2.4	Career Duration, Diversification and Types of Presidents	69
2.5	Conclusions	79
	References	81
3	Election and Term of Weak Presidents	91
3.1	Presidential Electoral Rules and Presidential Terms	91
3.2	Direct Elections and Second Order Theory	100
3.3	Indirect Elections and Party Politics	122
3.4	Duration in Office and Early Resignations	145
3.5	Conclusion	152
	References	156

4	Constitutional Strength and the Use of Formal Powers	161
4.1	Presidents' Formal Powers: An Introduction	161
4.2	Formal Powers in Government Formation and Parliament Dissolution	173
4.2.1	Austria	177
4.2.2	Finland	181
4.2.3	Germany	183
4.2.4	Ireland	184
4.2.5	Italy	187
4.2.6	Portugal	196
4.3	Formal Powers in Policy-Making: Vetoes and Messages to the Parliament	205
4.3.1	Ireland	214
4.3.2	Italy	217
4.3.3	Portugal	222
4.4	Conclusion	228
	References	231
5	Presidential Informal Powers and Their Use	237
5.1	Presidents' Informal Powers: A Definition	237
5.2	Presidents' Informal Powers: A Typology	245
5.3	Methodological Aspects and Research Design	250
5.4	Mapping Informal Powers in Government Formation	257
5.4.1	Pushing for Specific Governing Formulas	258
5.4.2	Vetoes on Ministers	262
5.4.3	The Appointment of a Minister	266
5.5	Mapping Informal Powers in the Policy-Making: Pocket Vetoes and Line-Item Vetoes	270
5.5.1	Pocket Vetoes	270
5.5.2	Line-Item Veto or Moral Suasion	272
5.6	Explaining the Positive Outcome of President's Informal Powers	285
5.7	Conclusion	290
	References	294
6	Informal Activism in Practice: The Individual Presidents' Experiences	301
6.1	Informal Activism in Austria	301
6.2	Informal Activism in Germany	316
6.3	Informal Activism in Ireland	339

6.4	Informal Activism in Italy	348
6.5	Informal Activism in Portugal	380
6.6	Conclusion	396
	References	400
7	When Presidents Go Public: An Analysis of Presidential Major Speeches	409
7.1	Going Public in Europe: Values, Polity and Policy Issues	409
7.2	Presidential Speeches and Methodological Aspects	414
7.3	A Descriptive Exploration of Presidential Speeches Among Macro Themes	423
7.3.1	The Policy Dimension	423
7.3.2	The Polity Dimension	435
7.3.3	The Politics Dimension	444
7.4	What Kind of Values and Policy Issues? Presidents Facing External Shocks	448
7.4.1	Global Terrorism	448
7.4.2	The Global Financial Crisis and European Debt Crisis	454
7.4.3	The Covid Pandemic	458
7.5	How Presidents Deal with the Politics of the Past and Their Vision of the Homeland	464
7.5.1	Country-Specific Events	465
7.5.2	Vision of the Homeland	471
7.6	Conclusion	477
	References	480
8	A Comprehensive Picture of Western European Presidents	483
8.1	Who Are Weak Presidents. Similarities and Differences Between Semi-Presidential and Parliamentary Western European Democracies	485
8.2	What Weak President Do. Activism Between Formal and Informal Powers	487
8.3	What Trigger the Positive Outcome of Presidential Informal Activism	492
8.4	Other Informal Interventions and Future Research Avenues	496
	References	500
	Annex: List of the Political Parties Quoted in the Book	503
	Index	509

LIST OF FIGURES

Fig. 2.1	Presidents' level of education per country (percentage values)	48
Fig. 2.2	Presidents' type of tertiary education per country (percentage values) (Note Totals in absolute numbers differ from the number of presidents since in some cases presidents have two degrees and in some other cases presidents have no degree. Thus, the total is 12 for Italy; 10 for Germany; 7 for Austria; 8 for Ireland; 5 for Finland and 5 for Portugal)	50
Fig. 2.3	Presidents' profession per time period (pre- and post-the '90s) (percentage values)	53
Fig. 2.4	Presidents per party family (percentage values)	55
Fig. 2.5	Presidents previously party leaders per party family (percentage values)	57
Fig. 2.6	Level of professionalization among presidents per country (percentage values)	59
Fig. 2.7	Level of professionalization among presidents per party family (percentage values)	60
Fig. 2.8	Level of professionalization of presidents per time period (pre- and post-1990) (percentage values)	60
Fig. 2.9	Presidents' previous experience in national/federal institutions per party family (percentage values)	64
Fig. 2.10	High and low prestige cabinet portfolios previously covered by presidents per country (percentage values)	65

Fig. 2.11	High and low prestige cabinet portfolios previously covered by presidents per party family (percentage values)	66
Fig. 2.12	Extra-political positions held by presidents before entering office per country (percentage values) (Note Total is not 100 when the same president held more positions. Other offices are related to higher positions in Churches [i.e. President of the Evangelic Church]; in State Commissions [such as the Commission for STASI records] or in high advisory state bodies such as the Portuguese Council of State)	68
Fig. 2.13	Average duration of presidents' career per country (in years)	71
Fig. 2.14	Average duration of presidents' career per party family (in years)	73
Fig. 2.15	Types of presidents according to their pre-careers	75
Fig. 3.1	Turnout of presidential and legislative elections in Austria (percentage values) (Note Presidential elections were held in 1951; 1957; 1963; 1965; 1971; 1974; 1980; 1986; 1992; 1998; 2004; 2010 and 2016. The most proximate legislative elections considered were the following: 1949; 1956; 1962; 1970; 1971; 1979; 1983; 1990; 1995; 2002; 2008 and 2013. Source Austria: Interior Ministry)	112
Fig. 3.2	Turnout of presidential and legislative elections in Ireland (percentage values) (Note Presidential elections were held in 1945; 1959; 1966; 1973; 1990; 1997; 2011 and 2018. The most proximate legislative elections considered were the following: 1944; 1957; 1965; 1969; 1989; 1992; 2007 and 2016. Source Ireland: the website Election in ireland by Christopher Took & Seán Donnelly)	113
Fig. 3.3	Turnout of presidential and legislative elections in Portugal (percentage values) (Note Presidential elections were held in 1979; 1980; 1986; 1991; 1996; 2001; 2006; 2011; 2016 and 2021. The most proximate legislative elections considered are the following: 1976; 1980; 1985; 1987; 1995; 1999; 2005; 2009; 2015 and 2019 Source Portugal: Electoral Commission)	114
Fig. 3.4	Turnout of presidential and legislative elections in Finland (percentage values) (Note Presidential elections were held in 1988; 1994; 2000; 2006; 2012 and 2018. The most proximate legislative elections considered were the following: 1987; 1991; 1999; 2003; 2011 and 2015 Source Finland: Ministry of Justice)	115

Fig. 3.5	Type of presidential majority compared to parliamentary majority by country (absolute values)	125
Fig. 3.6	Duration in office (in years) per president by party family and country (mean values)	147
Fig. 3.7	Percentage of the term completed by resigning presidents (percentage values)	149
Fig. 6.1	Informal interventions in government formation and policy-making by Austrian presidents (absolute numbers)	302
Fig. 6.2	Type of informal powers and their outcomes by Austrian presidents (absolute numbers)	302
Fig. 6.3	Informal interventions in government formation and policy-making by German presidents (absolute numbers)	316
Fig. 6.4	Type of informal powers and their outcomes by German presidents (absolute numbers)	317
Fig. 6.5	Informal interventions in government formation by Irish presidents (absolute numbers)	339
Fig. 6.6	Informal interventions in government formation and policy-making by Italian presidents (absolute numbers)	348
Fig. 6.7	Informal interventions per type of power and outcome by Italian presidents (absolute numbers)	349
Fig. 6.8	Informal interventions in government formation and policy-making by Portuguese presidents (absolute numbers)	380
Fig. 6.9	Informal interventions per type of power and outcome by Portuguese presidents (absolute numbers)	381
Fig. 7.1	The coding scheme (by number of coding references)	417
Fig. 7.2	Policy, Polity and Politics dimensions per number of coding references per country (absolute values)	424
Fig. 7.3	Domestic issues, European issues and Foreign Policy issues in the NY-CH speeches of Western European presidents by total of coding references per country (percentage values)	425
Fig. 7.4	Distribution of Domestic, European and Foreign policy issues within the same country (percentage values)	426
Fig. 7.5	Distribution of domestic, European and Foreign policy issues per president (percentage values)	427
Fig. 7.6	The most frequent domestic issues per country by total of coding references (percentage values)	429
Fig. 7.7	Distribution of specific domestic issues within the same country (percentage values)	431

Fig. 7.8	Distribution of specific domestic issues per presidents' party family (percentage values)	432
Fig. 7.9	The most frequent EU issues per country by total of coding references (percentage values)	433
Fig. 7.10	Distribution of specific EU issues within the same country (percentage values)	434
Fig. 7.11	The most frequent Foreign policy issues per country by total of coding references (percentage values)	435
Fig. 7.12	Distribution of specific Foreign policy issues within the same country (percentage values)	436
Fig. 7.13	Values, disvalues and state/nation building process in the NY-CH speeches of Western European presidents by total of coding references per country (percentage values)	437
Fig. 7.14	Values, disvalues and state/nation building process in the NY-CH speeches of Western European Presidents by total of coding references per president (percentage values)	438
Fig. 7.15	The most frequent values in NY-CH presidential speeches by total coding references in each category (percentage values)	439
Fig. 7.16	The most frequent political values by total of coding references per country (percentage values)	440
Fig. 7.17	The most frequent social values by total of coding references per country (percentage values)	441
Fig. 7.18	The most frequent moral values by total of coding references per country (percentage values)	442
Fig. 7.19	The most frequent elements of State or Nation building process by total of coding references per country (percentage values)	443
Fig. 7.20	Distribution of the most frequent elements related to the State/Nation building process within the same country (percentage values)	443
Fig. 7.21	The most frequent disvalues by total of coding references per country (percentage values)	444
Fig. 7.22	Distribution of the most frequent disvalues within the same country (percentage values)	445
Fig. 7.23	Distribution of Inter-executive relations, Appeals to political leaders and Role of the presidents in presidential NY-CH speeches (percentage values)	446
Fig. 7.24	Values and policy issues connected with Global Terrorism in presidential speeches	450

Fig. 7.25	Intersection between global terrorism references and issue and value references. (Absolute values)	453
Fig. 7.26	Values and policy issues connected with Global financial crisis in presidential speeches	456
Fig. 7.27	Intersection between global financial crisis references and issue and value references. (Absolute values)	459
Fig. 7.28	Values and policy issues connected with Covid Pandemic in presidential speeches	460
Fig. 7.29	Intersection between Covid pandemic references and issue and value references. (Absolute values)	464
Fig. 7.30	Values and policy issues connected with Country-specific events in presidential speeches	466
Fig. 7.31	Intersection between Country-specific event references and issue and value references. (Absolute values)	471
Fig. 7.32	Values and policy issues connected with Vision of the Homeland in presidential speeches	472
Fig. 7.33	Intersection between Vision of the Homeland references and issue and value references. (Absolute values)	477

LIST OF TABLES

Table 1.1	Presidential powers, type of presidential election, type of constitutional design in Europe	9
Table 1.2	The main characteristics for the selection of the country cases	24
Table 1.3	Presidents and presidential terms per country. (Absolute and percentage values)	25
Table 1.4	Time frame per country and according to presidents' term	27
Table 2.1	Presidents in office before and after 1990 (absolute and percentage values)	44
Table 2.2	Presidents per gender (absolute and percentage values)	45
Table 2.3	Presidential mean age at appointment and minimum and maximum age at appointment per country	46
Table 2.4	Presidential Mean Age when entering and exiting office per country and time period (pre-and-post the 90s) (percentage values)	47
Table 2.5	Presidents' level of education per country and time period (pre-and-post 90s) (percentage values)	49
Table 2.6	Presidents' type of tertiary education per country and time period (pre-and post the 90s) (percentage values)	50
Table 2.7	Presidents' profession per country (percentage values)	52
Table 2.8	Presidents per party family and country (percentage values)	56

Table 2.9	Presidents who performed as party leader per country (absolute and percentage values)	56
Table 2.10	Presidents' previous experience at municipal and regional or state level per country (absolute and percentage values)	62
Table 2.11	Presidents' previous experience at national/federal level per country (absolute and percentage values)	63
Table 2.12	Average duration of presidents' career per gender (in years)	72
Table 2.13	Average number of different institutional offices held before presidency per country and period	74
Table 2.14	Average number of different institutional political offices held before presidency per party family and period	74
Table 3.1	Electoral rules and terms of weak presidents	101
Table 3.2	Comparison of Turnout between elections with the incumbent or no incumbent per country (Mean values)	106
Table 3.3	Turnout and presidential power per country (mean values)	106
Table 3.4	Number of presidential elections per type of competitiveness and turnout (absolute and percentage values)	108
Table 3.5	Candidacy fragmentation mean per country	108
Table 3.6	Number of presidential elections per fragmentation of candidacies and turnout	109
Table 3.7	Turnout in presidential and legislative elections per country (Mean values)	110
Table 3.8	Mean difference between turnout in presidential and legislative elections per country	111
Table 3.9	Turnout in legislative elections in countries with direct or indirect presidential elections (mean values)	116
Table 3.10	Percentage of votes for the winning candidate at the final round per country (percentage values)	117
Table 3.11	Percentage of votes of the winning candidate per party family at first and second elections (mean values)	118
Table 3.12	Type of presidential majority in comparison to the legislative majority per average votes of winners and round mean	133
Table 3.13	Fragmentation of candidacies and average number of rounds in first and second elections (mean values)	134
Table 3.14	Number of female candidates per countries in all rounds of voting per countries (absolute numbers)	139

Table 3.15	Vote share in the final round and number of rounds of voting per president by country (percentage and absolute values)	142
Table 3.16	Votes of the winning candidates and the mean number of rounds of voting per party family (mean values)	145
Table 3.17	Average duration in office during 1st and 2nd term of directly and indirectly elected presidents and amount of term completed	148
Table 4.1	Measures of president's formal powers	170
Table 4.2	Presidential formal powers in government formation and parliament dissolution in Western Europe	178
Table 4.3	Presidential formal powers in policy-making	206
Table 4.4	Referrals to the supreme court by Irish presidents (1937–2021)	215
Table 4.5	Suspensive Vetoes of Italian presidents (1948–2021)	219
Table 4.6	Vetoes of Portuguese presidents	223
Table 5.1	Differences between formal and informal presidential powers	241
Table 5.2	A typology of informal powers	248
Table 5.3	Mapping the proposals of governing formula as substitutive or subverting informal powers and their outcomes	259
Table 5.4	Mapping presidential vetoes of ministers as substitutive or subverting informal powers and their outcomes	264
Table 5.5	Mapping the appointment of a minister as a substitutive or subverting informal powers	268
Table 5.6	Informal powers in government formation per type, outcome and country	269
Table 5.7	Mapping pocket vetos as substitutive or subverting informal powers	273
Table 5.8	Mapping line-item vetoes as substitutive or subverting informal powers	277
Table 5.9	Mapping line-item vetoes as parallel and risk-taking informal powers per year	279
Table 5.10	Mapping line-item vetoes per type of informal power and per country	284
Table 5.11	Determinants of the positive outcomes of presidential informal activism	286
Table 6.1	Contextual factors and Personal features related to presidential interventions	303
Table 6.2	Contextual factors and Personal features related to presidential interventions in Germany	318

Table 6.3	Contextual factors and Personal features related to presidential interventions in Ireland	341
Table 6.4	Contextual factors and Personal features related to presidential interventions in Italy	350
Table 6.5	Contextual factors and Personal features related to presidential interventions in Portugal	382
Table 6.6	Number of informal interventions by Country and Party Family (absolute numbers)	397
Table 7.1	Corpus of NY-CH speeches held by Western European presidents	416