

Contents

Tables	ix
Introduction	1
Background	2
The ICRC and UNHCR	5
Colombia, the DRC, and Myanmar	7
Methods and Presentation	19
Plan of the Book	20
1. The ICRC and UNHCR	22
Institutional History	23
Institutional Structure	28
Institutional Culture	33
Conclusions	38
2. Principles of Humanitarian Action	40
Humanity	40
Impartiality	42
Neutrality	54
Independence	65
Conclusions	67
3. Legal Frameworks for Protection	69
Key Legal and Normative Frameworks for the Protection of Civilians	69
Laws, Norms, and the Mandates and Activities of the ICRC and UNHCR	79
The Use and Usefulness of these Frameworks	92
Conclusions	98
4. Objectives and Strategies of Protection	101
Classifying Protection Objectives	101
Violence Reduction	104
Threat Reduction	107
Vulnerability Reduction	113
Mitigating the Consequences of Violence	119
Ends and Means	120
Conclusions	126

5. Protection Roles and Responsibilities of Other Actors	129
States	130
Non-State Armed Parties to Conflict	140
Affected Communities, Civil (and Uncivil) Society	149
Conclusions	152
6. Protection Activities	155
Monitoring and Analysis	156
Registration and Documentation	160
Dialogue and Advocacy	162
Education, Training, and Sensitization	171
Developing Legal and Normative Frameworks	175
Material Assistance and Practical Projects	178
Activities in Other Strands of the ICRC and UNHCR Mandates	183
Conclusions	186
Conclusion	187
Old Solutions for New Problems	188
Limitations of Replicated Approaches	191
Theoretical Implications	194
Bibliography	197
Index	215